PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

I am writing this on 9/11 and am reminded about the preciousness of life. While we mourn, we are also reminded about the sweetness of each soul and the accomplishments and sacrifices that were made by many of them to preserve and defend our country.

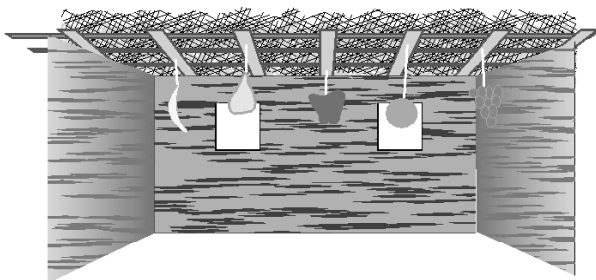

When you read this the High Holy Days will be ending and we start out with a "clean slate." What will we accomplish this new year? What will our legacy be?

I am reminded today not to take my life for granted, nor that of my family, country, synagogue, Judaism itself or Israel.

I do not take you, our congregants for granted either. I am grateful to you for all of your good works on our behalf and your generous contributions. You will help us create many new, fond memories in the year ahead. We will survive because you care.

Thanks you and G-d bless you.

*B'Shalom

RABBI LINES

A man goes to his Rabbi and asks him, "How does one build a Sukkah?" The Rabbi gives him explicit directions. The very next day, the man comes running back and complains to the Rabbi, "I did everything you told me to do; but the Sukkah fell down with the first wind. So, Rabbi, why did the Sukkah fall down?" The Rabbi shook his head, "You know, the Talmudic Rabbi asked the same question."

The Sukkah is erected as a temporary dwelling reminding us of our ancestors' trek through the wilderness, when they built temporary huts at all the places they stopped on their way to the Promised Land.

Our Sukkot are erected first outside our permanent homes to indicate that event though we are entering the rainy and wintry season; we trust in God that He will protect us even if we dwell for seven days in our little Sukkah.

Enjoy the holiday. Be happy with the bounty that God gives us on a daily basis.

Happy Holiday from house to house.

Rabbi Hermann

🎵 CANTOR'S NOTES 🎵

Shalom. What is in a greeting? A simple "Hello" or "Shalom" can mean much more than we may think. A person who is lonely or has no family may be overjoyed to have us simply say "Hello" while we are passing by or waiting in line at the market. Never underestimate the power of a simple and easy action as a nice "Shalom". Did you know that when you make someone else feel better even in the slightest bit, your serotonin levels rise in your brain? Serotonin is the chemical that makes you feel good. The levels in the other person rise as well. Even a person watching your kind act has a rise in serotonin in their brain! What a fabulous way to walk around feeling good. Throw away the Prozac and simply do nice things all day long. (Please consult your doctor or physician before taking any actions like throwing away your Prozac!) We have just come off of the "High" of the High Holidays. Sometimes the effect of life events takes time to settle in. Be aware of the way in which you feel as the holidays drift away once again. The "rub off" is like a wonderful nap, it stays with you the rest of the day. You feel relaxed and cleansed and tolerant of those around you. This is the same effect the Holidays have on us. We need to be aware of the cleansing and clearing we did in front of God on those special days. Allow yourself to feel this cleansing and begin the year with a fresh and happy outlook. And by all means, don't forget to say "Hello"!

B'shalom,
Cantor Katz

SISTERHOOD NEWS

Thanks to all who joined us last month at our Sisterhood events and activities. Your support is needed and appreciated. We look forward to seeing more of you at future events.

In October, in recognition of Breast Cancer Awareness Month, Sisterhood will present a Health and Wellness Program on Tuesday, October 20th at 7:30 p.m. Our guest lecturer will be Dr. Ira Gruschack, a local chiropractor and Temple Board trustee.

October is the beginning of a new Sisterhood mitzvah project. One Friday every month, members of sisterhood will be meeting at a local nursing home, where we will conduct a short Shabbat service for the Jewish residents. The service will be held in the afternoon and anyone interested in participating in this mitzvah project should contact me. Come help us put a smile on someone's face and remind people that even though they are confined to a nursing home, they are still a part of our community and we have not forgotten them – especially on the Sabbath.

In November, a very special event is being sponsored by Sisterhood. Together with the Long Beach Theatre Guild, we will be producing performances of two Neil Simon plays – Rumors and The Odd Couple. Rumors will be presented on Saturday, November 7 at 8 p.m. and on Sunday, November 8 at 3 p.m. You can see The Odd Couple on Saturday, November 21 at 8 p.m. and on Sunday, November 22 at 3 p.m. Tickets are only $18 for one show, or $15 each for tickets for both shows. Tickets will be available in early October – be on the look out for flyers detailing how you can order your tickets.

For those of you who are interested in learning about how to use various networking resources available on the internet, a very special program (date and time to be announced), is being planned. Our own Hilary Topper (former Sisterhood President and current Temple Board Vice President) will be presenting a seminar based on her recently published book entitled "Everything You Ever Wanted to Know About Social Media, but were afraid to ask...". The book is designed to help people understand the new world of social media and learn about its uses for personal, professional and business development.

Again, I hope to see more of you at our events. We can't operate in a vacuum - an event needs an audience. In the next few weeks we are offering you entertainment, education, community service – take advantage of these programs and events!! If you have any interests or ideas, communicate with me and we will see how we can incorporate them into a program or event for the enjoyment of the congregation.

Shalom.
Maris Warfman
Sisterhood President

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL NEWS

"One who observes mitzvot preserves one's own life."

-Pirke Avot 4:12

The school year is well underway. We celebrated the New Year 5770 and listened to Kol Nidre on Yom Kippur. We are now planning to celebrate Sukkot and Simchat Torah. On October 9th we will celebrate Simchat Torah and the Consecration of students who are "new" to Temple Emanu-El Religious School. During the service the new students will receive a "Certificate of Consecration" and their own miniature torah. Our 2010 Bar and Bat Mitzvah students will also receive their "Pentateuch & Haftorahs." So Please come and join us that night as we "role out the Torah."

Our theme for this school year will be "Making a Difference." Making a difference through mitzvot (commandments), tzedakah (charity and justice), gemilut hasadim (acts of loving kindness), and study of Torah. The students individually, as a class and as a school will be "Making a Difference" in the school, their homes, their community, their country and in the world.

On October 19th our 4th graders will participate in a Family Education program called "Parashat Noah" and on October 26th the 7th graders will be making a "Torah Wrap" for their class that each student will be able to use at their Bar and Bat Mitzvah. Our Religious School Family Educator, Lahna Bidner, has scheduled a wonderful year of Family Education programs for grades K-7. Please make every effort to attend these programs with your children. Dinner will be served followed by an educational program and craft project.

Finally, we are in the midst of our BIG school fundraiser: MY GRANDMA'S COFFEE CAKES. Last year these coffee cakes were a big hit with our families. These delicious cakes come in 12 varieties and are made with fresh natural ingredients certified Kosher. The cakes are on sale through the Religious and Nursery Schools for $15 each with deliverer guaranteed before Thanksgiving. (Cakes can be frozen for use during the Winter Holiday Season too.) Please see Mrs. Cabrera, Ms Roberta or Ms. Sheila. Help support our school and enjoy a cake that is to die for!

Nursery School

Our Nursery School is in full gear! It is a pleasure to be back in the swing of things. It is nice to have the classrooms filled with the pitter-patter of little feet. We sing, dance, create, and enjoy while we learn letters, numbers and shapes, and the meaning of our religious holidays. We all enjoyed celebrating Rosh Hashanah, feasting on apples and honey for a sweet New Year. We are looking forward to celebrating Sukkot and Simchat Torah with the children. They will be snacking in the sukkah and singing songs about this festive and happy holiday. Our youngsters will also experience shaking the lulav and etrog while learning the meaning of each symbolic item. If you happen to be in the Temple during our own Simchat Torah celebration you might just see the children parading and singing in the hallways. Feel free to join in! We are so very proud of all that is going on here and we know that you will be, too!

From the Temple Emanu-El Nursery School family to yours, we wish everyone a happy and healthy New Year.

*Shalom,
Roberta Abramowitz*

SUKKOT begins on the fifteenth of the Hebrew month of Tishri, and concludes on the twenty-second with Atsoret/Simchat Torah. Sukkot is the fall harvest festival.¹⁷⁹ The eighth day, Atsoret, functions as the conclusion of Sukkot but is also a separate festival.¹⁸⁰ Since Reform Jews follow the calendar of the Torah and (like the Jew living in Israel) do not add a ninth day to the Festival, they celebrate Simchat Torah and Atsoret on the same day.

More than any other of the Pilgrimage Festivals, Sukkot has retained its agricultural character. However, Sukkot is also the commemoration of a significant event in the life of the Jewish people; the journey through the wilderness toward the Land of Israel. The Torah identifies the Sukkot (booth) with the temporary dwellings in which the Israelites lived during that journey (Leviticus 23:42).

The mood of Sukkot is particularly joyous. Its beautiful symbolism of the successful harvest provides a welcome change of religious pace from the solemn days of prayer and introspection of Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur. While all of the Three Pilgrimage Festivals are times of rejoicing, Sukkot is specifically designated as "Zeman simchotenu," the season of our rejoicing.¹⁸¹ Even while we rejoice, the Sukkot's temporary and fragile structure reminds us how precarious life may be.

Through the use of the Lulav and *Erev*¹⁸² we acknowledge our dependence upon God for the food we eat. Living in an urban environment, it is easy to forget that both human labor and divine blessing make the world fruitful. On Sukkot our thoughts turn to the wonder and beauty of the world, to our responsibilities as its caretakers, and to our obligation to share, for God is the true owner of the land and its produce.

Atsoret/Simchat Torah is the day on which we finish reading the last verses of Deuteronomy and immediately begin again with the first verses of Genesis. The Torah scrolls are removed from the Ark and carried around the synagogue. The celebration is one of unbridled joy as we express our happiness at having lived to complete the reading of the Torah yet another time and to begin reading it again.

D. SUKKOT (INCLUDING ATSBRET/ SIMCHAT TORAH)

D-1 The mitzvah of observing Sukkot

It is a mitzvah to observe Sukkot from the fifteenth of the Hebrew month of Tishri for seven days and to conclude on the twenty-second (the eighth day) with the observance of Atsoret/Simchat Torah. As the Torah says, "On the fifteenth day of the seventh month there shall be a Feast of Booths to the Lord seven days. . . . On the eighth day you shall observe a holy day" (Leviticus 23:34, 36).

D-2 The mitzvah of rejoicing

It is a mitzvah to rejoice on Sukkot. As the Torah teaches, "You shall rejoice on your festival . . . for the Lord your God will bless all your crops and all your undertakings, and you shall have nothing but joy" (Deuteronomy 16:14, 15). While rejoicing is a mitzvah on all of the Three Pilgrimage Festivals, it is characteristic of the observance of Sukkot. So much so that the tradition has designated it as "Zeman simchotenu," the season of our rejoicing.

D-3 The mitzvah of Tzedakah

It is always a mitzvah to give Tzedakah.¹⁸³ However, since on Sukkot we give thanks for the harvest, all the more should we feel obliged to share with those who are less fortunate than we.
